GAMBLING CORWIN UNABATED

Indictments of Steamboat Captains
and Confiscation of Devices Don't Stop the Fleecing of Excursionists
—Back at Old Game.

CRAPS TABLES AND FORTUNE
WHEELS OPERATING AS USUAL

Law Defied by City of Providence, the Louisiana and the Corwin H. Spencer—Noticeable Absence of Women and Children on Boats.

There has been no abatement in river
gambling.

It continues despite the fact that five captains, masters of the crafts upon which the gambling ran riot yesterday, are under indictment in the courts of St. Louis.

It continues despite the fact that in the raid which followed the Post-Dispatch ex-posure of May 29, more than $200,000 worth of gambling devices were seized and carted away to the Four Courts.

It continues despite the fact that the games operated are crooked, are run by sharpers, and that where one wins 100 lose Sunday the Corwin H. Spencer gambler revealed in craps, spindles and fish-pond
drawing.

On the City of Providence check-a-luck,
black and white, spindles and the canary-bird game, a corruption of fish-pond, accused the money of those who risked their wages.

On the Louisiana, on its trip to Alton,
the gamblers confined themselves to "turf exchange," concentrating their efforts on the one game that the crowd might be combed more thoroughly.

There have been but two slight changes in the gambling situation on the river
since the local authorities took a hard Women and children are not permitted to patronize the craps games, and great care is exercised to prevent them from being started until St. Louis and its grandchildren have been left behind in a sea of smoke.

In other respects the river gambling
flourishes in the midst of the Corwin excursionists who, to escape the heat and unrest of the city, seek the cool air of the ready victor of sharpers who let their games up in their midst and with honeyed coaxing induce them to play

emerge penniless.

EXCURSIONISTS "SKINNED"

ON THE CORWIN H. SPENCER.

With the fading from view of the lights
of St. Louis, gambling on the Corwin H.
Spencer became a more serious matter.
Sunday night's excursion was the last of the paddles or diligence of the waters.

From the moment the city line was left behind until the game was suddenly stopped on the return as a matter of precaution, the players who went against the brace outfit were skinned under hard No attempt was made to suggest the location of any of the devices used.
A craps table, a spindles and fish-pond game were scattered about the boat with an eye that measured well the paths of the restless excursionists.

There was a noticeable absence of slot machines. Believed to be a result of the Post-Dispatch exposure of May 23, a half dozen or more of them were hidden away in the cellar of the Four Courts. None have taken their places.

Last night there was but a medium crowd to work upon. To make a showing, therefore, the sharpers had to be more relentless and with dispatch. It was Once cornered the sheering of the sheep

last dollar in the world was in some pas-senger's pocket. Money was looted from the secured and secured quickly.

The most serious and at the same time
most inviting game on the boat was located on the port side, forward, of the second or promenade deck.

SIMPLE, BUT SURE.

It is so simple and successful from the standpoint of the house that its inventor neglected to name it.

The game is merely a variation of the
"alphabet," involving the placing of letters of the alphabet taking the places of ducks
and numbers, while cash prizes are offered in lieu of articles.

This alleged game of chance was operated
in a booth that was not used as a winding-layers; appeared to be nothing more than a juvenile stand, with a column and knobs, lacking prominently displayed.

It came before with the advancement of a quarter by each player for the privilege of drawing an envelope from a tin racket. These envelopes, numbering about 100, contain various letters of the alphabet.
Fourteen letters win for the bank or house, leaving the supposition that the remaining 86 letters were for the player.

But one envelope, and at the system being "pay one, pay all." If the player wins the game, he gets the letter he has lost that same chance, that is, he loses the chance to double up and beat the game.

Judging from the number of winning letters during a half hour's observation, there was but one of the envelopes that contained a winner.

Yet so valuable was the banker that he drew into the game the catch of the evening, and one of the star catches of the season.

Offering $20 should the player win, and collecting $10 for each chance, the banker
succeeded in his attempt at swindling.
The foreigner of $100 before he "took"
a tumble. This was done on the representation that 12 letters were for the player and 13 lost. As soon as the lamb dropped out a caper won in, played his $10 and won the pot.

Then occurred one of the few ludicrous incidents of the evening's play. The banker didn't have the necessary $20 to pay off the winner. He was not enough in his roll to fill the stake for which the Frenchman had been playing.

BANKER WOULD NOT PAY.

The crowd at the showcase pressed
in closer, those who had not been victims

LITTLE HOUSEKEEPER SAVED: GRANDFATHER HER HERO.

Frances Martin.

RATS GNAW MATCH IMPERIL 26 LIVES

Flames Entrap Sleeping Occupants of Olive Street Rooming House—
Two Narrowly Escape.

GRANDFATHER SAVES CHILD

Little Frances Martin Had Just Assumed Position of Housekeeper
for Sick Grandmother.

The lives of 26 persons were imperiled
and two had hair-breadth escapes from death in a fire in the cigar and stationery store of Joseph Guthrie, 225 Olive street, directly under the rooming house conducted by Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Aubuchon at 2 o'clock this morning.

Rats gnawing prior matches are believed to have started the fire. Guthrie's loss is $500, partly insured. The damage to the building is about $300. Carpets and furniture in the upper stories of the building were damaged by smoke and water to the extent of $200.

Guthrie, who is 67 years old, and his granddaughter, Frances Martin, aged 12,
were asleep in the rear part of the store
when the fire broke out.

The little girl is an unusually sound
sleeper, and her grandfather, worn out with months' watching at the bedside of a sick wife, was so sound asleep that the crackling of the flames did not waken him.

Frank Taylor, who is in charge of the New York Kitchen, 2919 Olive street, at night, and James Pugh, 318 North Eighth avenue, saw smoke coming out of the transom at Guthrie's store soon after the fire started.

Pugh ran to turn in the alarm, and Taylor, knowing Guthrie slept in the store
at night, ran there and tried to awaken him.

"Wake up, your store's afire," he shouted from the sidewalk, but got no reply. He rattled the door and pounded on the windows, but Guthrie still slept.

In desperation he picked up a heavy slot machine standing on the sidewalk and hurled it crashing through the plate glass window. The crashing of the glass wakened Guthrie, who looked through the doorway of the partition behind which he slept, to see the store in front full of fire and smoke.

Neither Mulhall nor Reid, the two principles of the tragedy, are new to the shooting game. Twice Mulhall has been shot for Reid caused the death of an innocent victims. Several years ago Reid was shot at while he was coming through a saloon owned by John Daly. The bullet missed Reid and struck a woman who was with him, killing her.

A few years ago Mulhall, who was then living on Longfellow boulevard, was shot
on the street in front of his home late one night with a smoking revolver in his hand. Several shots had been fired, but Mulhall explained that he had shot at a man who had been bothering the house, and later found several blocks away, unharmed.

Mr. Howard died in April, 1903, and his wife followed him in death the same month. His little girl was left as the only heir, and she is accounted one of the richest children in St. Louis. Her father was the senior partner in the firm of Howard & Ryans, brick manufacturers.

there will be a continuance of showers and

There were local

over a large area and heavy rains in north central Nebraska, southern Missouri and central Ohio. The temperature is high throughout the central states. A singular fact is that it was six degrees warmer Sunday in upper Michigan than in St. Louis.
The thermometers there registered 76,

KANSAS CITY, June 20.—A four-story
brick building at Third and Delaware

the result of an explosion of dynamite on the third floor. Fifty girls in the upper stories were thrown into a panic. Six persons were buried in the debris. The others escaped down an

The injured:
Martha Fisher, aged 18; serious.
Viola Baker, 15; badly cut, not seriously.

MULHALL OUT, BUTLER SIGNS A $20,000 BOND

Police Reluctantly Give Up Ranch
Owner, Having Hoped to Hold Him
Until His Three Victims Are Out of Danger.

BOY WHO WAS SHOT IS IN SERIOUS CONDITION

Dr. Laidley, Medical Director of the Fair, Who Is Personally Attending
Him, Says Crisis Will Come Tomorrow—Two Others Improve.

Zack Mulhall, who shot three men in front of the Cummins Wild West Show on the Pike Saturday night, was released upon bond at 10:20 o'clock this morning.

Judge McDonald fixed the bond at $20,000,
and it was furnished by Col. Ed Butler.

The announcement that Judge McDonald would admit Mulhall to a common law bond created considerable surprise about the Four Courts, for up to that hour the importunities of Mulhall's friends had met with no encouragement whatever, the police department insisting that Mulhall should be kept in the jail until it had been determined whether or not Ernest Morgan, the bystander in the fight, is to die.

This morning before being liberated he was given 15 minutes of liberty with Detective Tracy, and they went to a barber shop, where Mulhall was shaved. This is a privilege with few precedents in the local police department.

Ernest Morgan of 3312 Sheridan avenue,
the most seriously wounded of the trio
shot by Mulhall, is in a critical condition
in the emergency hospital at the Fair.

The police department this morning
asked Dr. Laidley, the physician in charge,
for a statement as to whether Morgan
would die, but Dr. Laidley refused to say, reserving his opinion until tomorrow.

Which will be the third day after the shooting. It is supposed that the third day will enable the doctors to determine whether the young man will live.

Morgan was the bystander shot by one of the bullets fired in the fight.

Morgan's wound is in the stomach. The bullet penetrated the intestines twice, and has been located in the hip. It has not been removed.

John Murray, the cowboy shot by Mul-hall, is recovering, and Frank Reid, the attache of the wild west show, with whom Mulhall was fighting, has been taken to the City Hospital. No serious outcome is expected of his injuries.

All day long Sunday Zack Mulhall held a reception in the corridor of the jail. He had over 200 visitors, many of them important and wealthy people. Several of the friends of the Prisoner, Mulhall, who Mulhall is general live stock agent, of which the forenoon with his father. In the afternoon a number of callers included C. W. West,

C. Westmore, Gen. Pleasant Porter, Fred
Cummins, Maj. Henry Salmon, Col. Asay, Indian agent of the Sioux tribe, and dieton, general freight agent, and Carl E.
Wright, who is in charge of the Frisco. Mul-hall's time was well occupied with the calls, and he did little else than receive them all day.

ciples of the tragedy, are new to the shoot-

POLITICIANS AT THE REPUBLICAN NATIONAL CONVENTION,

WALBRIDGE IS NOT IN THE RUNNING

National Convention Delegates Fail to Consider St. Louis Candidate for Vice-Presidency Seriously.

WARNER TO PRESENT NAME

Missouri Has All the Enthusiasm and the Only Solid Delegation in Sight.

BY J. J. McALLIFFE, Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, June 20.—The movement to nominate Missouri's favorite son, former Mayor Cyrus P. Walbridge of St. Louis, for vice-president, is not taken seriously by Republicans of national prominence. In fact, outside of Missouri delegates, there is no enthusiasm.

The chances of Fairbanks and Hitt are the only ones discussed in the vice-presidential race.

Mr. Walbridge's chief lieutenants here are State Chairman Thomas J. Akina, William Llewellyn Saunders, secretary of the Business Men's League of St. Louis; William H. Osmer, deputy United States Marshal W. E. Morsey of St. Louis and Bert D. Norton, assistant United States district attorney of St. Louis.

Mr. Akina informed the Post-Dispatch this morning that he thought Mr. Walbridge would get support from Texas.

SEEKS HER MISSING HUSBAND

Mrs. David E. Rhoads of Eureka Goes to Cape Girardeau to See Body Taken From the River

635 BODIES NOW RECOVERED

Divers Will Follow Course of Steamer's Terrible Race With Death Through East River.

NEW YORK, June 20.—All along the East River from North Brother's Island down to what was known as the Sunken Meadows, search was made today for bodies of unfortunate who lost lives in the collision of the excursion steamer Gen. Slocum last Wednesday.

Although more than 630 bodies had been recovered last night, reports from the first few minutes of work today added five more to the total. These were found at widely separated points and the searchers were of the opinion that before the day ended the list of missing would be greatly decreased.

They believe that the big steamers and other craft will go out the water so as to cause the bodies lying at the bottom of the river to rise to the surface.

Wreckers at work on the wreck of the Slocum today encountered new difficulties.

They were at work about the hull of the sunken steamer when they found that instead of the hull resting in mud, as they thought, that it rested on rocks which were never known to exist. This, they say, will delay the work.

There are four divers at work near North Brother's Island. One diver reports that in a few minutes he has discovered a large hollow in which he says there are a large number of bodies.

Many Will Testify at Inquest.

More than 200 witnesses had been summoned to appear at the inquest which began before Coroner Berry today. It is planned to have present an assistant United States district attorney and a stenographer with instructions from the department of justice to take down all testimony offered.

As fast as notes are transcribed the evidence will be examined by United States District Attorney Burnett, who will turn forward the evidence, together with his opinion thereon, to the coroner.

"If the evidence warrants it," said Gen. Burnett today, "I shall not wait until the end of the inquest before moving in the matter. If the evidence is strong enough, certain phases of the case long before the inquest has closed."

General dread caused by the disaster has greatly thinned the crowds which usually fill to the limit the excursion steamers plying to nearby resorts. Many steaming with a capacity of 1500 to 2000 left their docks carrying less than half their normal load.

One of the most pathetic cases in connection with the burning of the Slocum is that of a German woman and her husband. They lived in an East Side tenement. The woman, who was married in 1890, and her husband were both employed in the same factory. The husband was killed in the disaster. The wife managed to escape with her life, but she is now in a state of mind that makes it impossible for her to leave her home.

The name of the steamer on which the first child is a passenger cannot be learned. The relief committee is arranging to have a watch kept at the emigrant station for her.

This word has passed around by many of the committeemen, who say they have it from high sources that a strong coterie of Democrats is preparing to get Cleveland before the convention and to force his nomination if possible. A Republican national committeeman said today:

"The Democratic party is afloat in a good ship in a summer sea with a fair shore lying a few miles off. The trouble is that they don't know how to get ashore."

I say to you that if they nominate Cleveland we will have a hard run to beat him. I have been all over the United States and I know. That is the only thing we fear. We can beat Parker. Several of the leaders here have told me it would be very dangerous to Roosevelt to nominate Cleveland and I agree with them.

"I don't think they can nominate him, but the best information we have is that the plan is again under consideration and that there will be a strong effort to get Cleveland to head the ticket. So far as I am concerned, he is the only man who can win. I know that from some close friends of his. I figured that the South may protest a bit, but that can be smoothed over."

"If they do name him, Col. Roosevelt will have the run of his life. Between you and me, I hope they do. The Republicans have the Senate for the next six years. The Democrats can do harm. If Roosevelt steps in for another term I am afraid he will leave the party courts when he went out of office last time. It would not be better for us to have Cleveland defeat him this year if the Democrats can bring the case to name him and leave us in good shape for a campaign in 1908."

"The Katy Fair Special." The new fast train of the M. & T. Railway, made its initial trip, leaving St. Louis at 9:15 a. m. Sunday. There were a hundred or more people at the station to inspect the train, and all united in lauding it as the finest thing on wheels leaving the Union Station.

Short Talks on Publicity—No. 7

More advertising fails to sell goods on account of weak, unconvincing copy than through the unwise selection of mediums. The copy is your salesman, the medium is his introduction to the consuming public. While it is no simple matter always to select the right mediums, it is still more difficult to give the space you buy its maximum selling power. In these matters the manufacturer needs the highest quality of practical assistance rather than theoretical advice or guess work. H. E. Lesan Company Advertising.

ELOPING GIRL TAKES POISON, FOLLOWING HER FIANCE'S EXAMPLE

EVA HART

Eva Hart, Who Came to St. Louis From Toronto With Ralph Willis, Also Wanted to Die—He Tried to Leap From Eads Bridge.

Grieving over the failure of Ralph Willis, with whom she eloped from Toronto, to marry her, Eva Hart, a pretty brunette of 18, followed the example he set 10 days previously by attempting suicide. Willis' attempt was dramatic. He tried to leap over the railing of the Eads bridge into the Mississippi. Miss Hart, however, took poison in the seclusion of an apartment at 2675 Locust avenue. She swallowed two bichloride of mercury tablets. Willis suffered no harm from his attempt. Policemen prevented him from dropping into the stream. Miss Hart is still ill from the effects of her endeavor to quit the world, but physicians say she is out of danger. One reason why she was particularly despondent was that after her suicide attempt she was nipped in the bud. Willis had apparently deserted her for another woman, a pretty blonde named Audrey Norton, of Pittsburgh. Now, however, it is expected that the suicidal attempts of both may lead to a new affinity between them with the result that their wedding may yet be on. Ralph Willis is said to be a son of the chief of police of Toronto, Canada. His home is at 38 Langley avenue there. Miss Hart's parents live in Youngstown, O. Three years ago she went to Toronto. Willis met her there. They planned to come to the World's Fair and be married here. First they went to Youngstown to secure the consent of her parents. It appears that this was granted on condition that Willis first get himself a position in St. Louis. Both came to St. Louis five weeks ago and Willis sought a job. He failed to find any employment that looked good to him. He had no money to take care of Miss Hart of himself. She had taken a room at 2675 Locust avenue and he was stopping at the Egworth League Hotel. He attempted to jump off bridge. On June 8, Willis, made desperate by this condition, walked out on the bridge. As he put his foot on the railing Patrolman Dowling tapped him on the shoulder and invited him to the City Hospital. Willis was discharged from the hospital the night following, but meanwhile the second woman appeared on the scene. She explained to the hospital attendants that she had read of Willis in the newspapers and that she wanted to come at once, as she knew him very well and was interested in his welfare. It seems that Willis sought the company of Miss Norton more than Miss Hart after leaving the hospital. Miss Hart says he received $100 from his home and spent it, having only a small amount of money when she saw him Saturday evening. The attempt at suicide followed. Willis followed an unsatisfactory interview with Willis. She is at the City Hospital.

BABY'S LIFE SAVED BY DOGS' DEATH

Little Josephine Keefe Was About to Swallow Poisoned Meat.

The death of the family's three pet dogs saved the life of Josephine Keefe, the 2-year-old daughter of J. H. Keefe of 1014 Hamilton avenue. Borrowing over the death of the pet dogs has changed to joy over saving the baby from death. The dogs had been poisoned, and when they were found dead Sunday morning an investigation was made. A piece of poisoned meat was found in the child's hand. The little one was just ready to put it in her mouth, which would have meant almost instant death, as it was saturated with prussic acid. Saturday morning at 8 o'clock, when Mr. Keefe went downstairs he stumbled over the body of one of the dogs. It was the mother dog. After eating of the poisoned meat she had jumped through a cellar window and started upstairs in a vain effort to reach her master before death came. Later two puppies were found, also dead. Then began a search for the cause. The family hunted over the lawn for poison, but none could be found. They did not think of looking on the rear porch. As they had about abandoned the search and were entering the house by the rear door, Josephine, the baby, was seen with a piece of cooked meat in her hand. She was in the act of putting it into her mouth. It was snatched from her hand by the frantic mother. Later several pieces of the poisoned meat were found on the veranda. Mr. Keefe's next door neighbor, H. Ashcroft of 1016 Hamilton avenue, lost a fine English shepherd dog in the same manner Sunday. The animal was high-bred. One of the members of the family was playing with the dog at dinner time. While he was at dinner the dog found a piece of meat, and by the time the family had finished the meal the dog was dead. Mrs. Ashcroft cried Monday morning in telling of the dog's death. She said there was not money enough to induce them to part with the animal. Neither of the families can account for the poisoning of the dogs, as none of the animals were ever allowed outside their yards.

SHOW YOUR TICKET, THEN SHOW AGAIN

Double Line of Gates to Be Passed Before Taking Train at Union Station.

"Show your ticket!" "Here too!" "Yes, here too!" This is the sort of dialogue heard at Union Station this morning, when the new double gate system went into effect. The passenger must show his ticket at the outside gate, cross the inside midway, and produce the ticket for still another gateman before the train may be gained. Persons with friends coming in and going out may no longer rush in and do their kissing and handshaking between the trains. They must stand far back in the first midway, and the best they can do is to make affectionate signals through two sets of bars. The new viaduct stairs from the first midway to the waiting rooms upon the second floor of the station will be opened tomorrow.

A motorist who has had a Franklin doesn't want anything more to do with water-cooled cars. It is as ridiculous to cool your cylinders by water as to use a derrick to lift a pen. The Franklin with its Four-cylinder Air-cooled Motor does away with the unnecessary weight of the water-pipes, jackets, radiator, the water itself, the leakage, the freezing, the bursting of pipes, the delays, the repairs, and nuisances of every sort. The Franklin is different from any other motor-car—livelier, more reliable, less often in the repair-shop, speedier on the level, and better for climbing hills. You don't know the latest news about motor-cars, unless you have seen the Franklin cars. Come look at them.

"The Moorish church sought me at my residence last night and asked me if I was the correspondent of the New York World and-Dispatch, Mr. Wallace.
"In my assuring him that I was he presented me the capacious letter which follows.
"With health to Mr. Wallace, an Englishman in Tangier, whom may God preserve."
The letter begins:
"From the slave of God, Ahmad Ben Abdullah, Sherref of Rainsul, to the editor of the New York World and Post-Dispatch:
"It is well that Americans and Englishmen should know the truth of my deprecations, therefore I have taken Mr. Perdicaris and that has been said in Tangier about me—that I hate Christians and Europeans."

"I want to drive them from Morocco—soon. Such speaking is lies. Between Europe and Europe, Mussulman and Christian, there is nothing but force and violence. Theirs no wrong, any Christian. 'Should trouble come, it will come from Europe, for if troops land we will fight.' The cause of the present trouble between me and the government is the House Absadek, the governor of Tangier, who now deposed, and his uncle and relations, who are the nobility of the kingdom for generations. Absadeka and his people have for years persecuted by fire and sword my people. With his soldiers he led our young boys, spoiled our young girls, mutilated our children and robbed our women."

Absadek disregarded all the principles of our religion in his persecution of the Jews. You may wonder why I took Mr. Per-

Yes. Well, for a long time I considered the advisability of raiding Tangier, retelling on the governor, but I saw a difficulty, owing to the presence of a large number of foreigners in the city. Not wishing to offend the powers, I decided to come to Tangier and carry away some European of standing. When I came I had no intention of taking Mr. Perdicaris any more than any other man.

Yes. I am glad I took an American, for the governor forced the Sultan to overthrow the number of men innocently seized and between me and the people. He must be a just man, for if there is no government that the present trouble will be in danger of renewal.

Yes. Morocco occupied by a nation nor troops landed, because

Mr. will men trouble also. Mr. Perdicaris is a safe. He has nothing except to see his wife. I hope I have made my position clear to the American and English papers. The American papers are the better as Mr. Perdicaris is a very well, but that Mr. Perdicaris, his stepson, looks ill. The captain has picked up the foot of Nala's arm. They are allowed latitudes. Nala's assault and his 2 personal followers are the Moor pretender's army. I have learned that the foreign legations are to be in the Moor pretender's army. Mr. Varley will arrive here within two days.

A Pretty Sight.

For the first time in St. Louis retail commerce, prominent and deserving recognition has been given the handicapped races and Der-day in the form of a window display. The entire Washington avenue front of

May store has been given to novel and original display of dress styles and Derby hats. The attracting feature is a plaster paris reproduction of each horse in their colors is shown in the back window. Colonial Girl appears first, in red and white; Dick Welles, in purple and gold; Lad, in green, black and white; Gold Lad, in green and red; Bernays, in purple and white; Hester, in green and brown; Melba, all brown, and Pickett in brown and white.

The entire creation represents one of the most prettiest show window effects ever shown in St. Louis and such metropolitan stores are certainly worthy of commendation and approval.

The presentation illustrates "dips" of everyday day costumes, which enterprise is one of the exemplifications of their slogan "the name that means much for St. Louis."

Still Hunt for Highwaymen.

The police are still searching for the two men who held up and robbed John J. Dewitt of 2357 Adams street and Miss Anna Adams of 3002 Laclede avenue at 10 o'clock last night.

Williams were walking through the jail south of the cottage when they were overtaken by the highwaymen. Dewitt struck on the head by one of the robbers and rendered unconscious. While in the hands of the highwaymen, Dewitt's pockets and took $10. Meanwhile the other had compelled Miss Williams to turn out her money and she was then carried off at $10, which she wore.

Object to Price of Guards.

Some of the state commissioners are protesting against the price asked for guards and they say the Fair board is not to blame. A case in point occurred this morning when Oklahoma asked for an extra guard to keep the people off the lawn in front of the Oklahoma building. The Oklahomans were informed that the guards could be had for $2.50 a day. The offer was refused. The people at the state buildings say they could not get the guards for $2.50 a day. They want to pay the Fair $2.50 a day for a Jefferson Guard who is employed by the Fair for $5 a month.

CREVE COEUR RAID BAGS ONLY FOUR

Sheriff Hencken Keeps His Promise
and Swoops Down on the Gamblers in County.

As a result of the expose by the Post-Dispatch last Sunday of the gambling at Creve Coeur Lake, and according to his promise to rid the county of gamblers, Sheriff Hencken and three deputies raided the resort yesterday afternoon and arrested five men—four on a charge of gambling and one on a charge of trying to do a little pickpocket stunt.

The men arrested for gambling are Fred Marshall, Charles Saunders, Charles Doe and Robert Mitchell, alias Jackson. The four are charged with gambling. "Peter" Modette was arrested, the officers say, while he was in the act of taking $100 from the pocket of a visitor at the lake. All are locked up at Clayton with the exception of Saunders and Marshall, who gave cash bonds and were released.

Sheriff Hencken was accompanied Sunday by Deputies Bellairs, Osenfort and Hansen. On account of the fact that they were well known by the greater number of the gamblers, great care had to be exercised in their work. Finally Bellairs succeeded in finding a place running, the proprietors of which did not know him. He placed a small sum on the game and then put the proprietors under arrest.

One place was all that could be raided, for within a minute the coppers were hurrying to all the other games at the lake with the news that "de fyx cops is here." The crowds were rushed away from the games and they were closed as rapidly as possible.

Games Running in Full Swing.
When the sheriff and his men reached the lake the games were running full force, the same as they have been for several weeks, the proprietors apparently having little faith in the sheriff's statement that he would close them up, but when it was learned he was on the ground prepared to do business, gambling devices disappeared as if by magic. Wholes of fortune, craps tables, etc., were swallowed up by the air. The sheriff intimates that it would be better for them to remain swallowed, as he says he is not yet through, and that he does not intend to stop until the gamblers are gone, to return no more.

The officers also closed up one show, which was run out of the county a few days ago, but returned to Creve Coeur Lake. The managers of the production promised to keep it closed.

A. G. Orthwein and J. G. Aibers were arrested Sunday night at the Suburban Garden by Sheriff Hencken and Deputy Hansen, upon charges of operating what is known as plate and spinde boards.

JOHN T. SULLIVAN IS DEAD

NEW YORK, June 20.—John T. Sullivan, for 15 years one of the most popular American actors, is dead at his hotel in this city from rheumatism, which finally attacked his heart.

Mr. Sullivan became ill two weeks ago. He had never before suffered from the disease, which ultimately caused his death. He sank rapidly Saturday evening and for several hours preceding the end was unconscious.

A character actor Mr. Sullivan had few equals in America and had been leading man to most of the prominent actresses. He started jointly with his former wife, Rose Coghlan, and with great success in Michigan, but efforts to locate her have not yet proved successful.

WATCHMAN DROWNS IN RIVER.

Misstep Sent Aged Joseph Buschmiller to His Death.

While walking upon one of the sand barges at the foot of St. George street Sunday night, Joseph Buschmiller, aged 70, lost his balance and fell into the river. The body was not again seen after it struck the water, and has not been recovered.

Buschmiller was employed as a watchman by the Union Sand Co., and it was while making his usual rounds of inspection that he met his death.

His home was at 14 South Third street. A reward of $25 is offered by the family for the recovery of the body.

NO GENERAL MARTIAL LAW FOR COLORADO

Gen. Bell Says He Has No Intention of Putting Whole State Under Military Rule.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Colo., June 20.—In response to a telegram from an eastern newspaper asking for a statement from him as to whether he said Gov. Peabody would soon have to declare the whole of Colorado in a rebellion and put the state under martial law, Adjutant-General Bell has replied as follows:

"The alleged interview is absolutely without foundation. I not only never gave out such an interview, but the idea is absolutely foreign to my mind under the past and present conditions. There is no need of declaring Colorado under martial law."

"The whole state practically has been cleaned up by my departmental system. There are but few anarchists and socialists left who can cause trouble."

"However, should it become a military necessity, the whole state of Colorado will be placed under martial law and all insurrectionists dealt with accordingly."

"I do not believe that this will ever be necessary. In my judgment the Colorado labor troubles are at an end."

"We have been making the fight for the whole United States, as the Western Federation of Miners has been receiving financial support and other assistance from the country at large. Colorado is looking to other states to follow suit."

Knocked from a Trestle.
Michael Noonan, who lives in St. Louis County, may die from injuries he received by being struck by a Suburban car Sunday, while he was crossing a trestle on the company's private right of way between Ridge and Ella avenues. A car knocked him into a creek 20 feet below. He is at the City Hospital.

NO BARGAIN RATES FOR LOST CHILDREN

Mrs. Hirschfield Does Not Reply to Lady Managers' Counter Proposition.

Mrs. Ruth Ashley Hirschfield, who has charge of the Model Playground at the Fair, has ignored the request of the Board of Lady Managers for "bargain" quotations for the care of lost children.

As a result, the committee on ceremonies of the Board of Lady Managers did not consider the Model Playground proposition when it convened Monday morning, as it had intended.

In her original proposition to the board, Mrs. Hirschfield asked for an appropriation of $200 a month, basing her estimate on the calculation that at least 25 children would have to be cared for daily.

Members of the board are of the belief that the number of lost children at the Fair would average 25 daily and accordingly made a counter proposition asking Mrs. Hirschfield what she would take to care for 10 children daily. To this request no reply has been made and as a result the model playground question is unsettled.

At their session Monday morning the members of the committee on ceremonies declared their intention to be sent to the president of the Exposition and the members of the board of lady managers in the city, and state and territorial government.

A reception will be given Thursday evening by the board of lady managers in honor of the young women from Missouri visiting the Fair.

Mrs. E. L. Buchanan of New York, a member of the board, has returned to her home and Mrs. W. H. Coleman, treasurer, has also left for her home in Indianapolis.

Mrs. Fannie L. Porter, a member of the board, will be in the receiving line at the reception in the Georgia building Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Porter is credited with doing more than any other woman in securing a Georgia building for the Fair.

NEW YORK STATE WITHOUT EXECUTIVE

As Far Down as the Constitution Provides Succession, Officials Are at Convention.

SPECIAL TO THE POST-DISPATCH.
ALBANY, N. Y., June 20.—The state of New York is without an executive today.

If an emergency should arise requiring gubernatorial action there would be no one in the state having authority to put in motion the machinery of government for meeting such emergency.

The constitution provides that if the governor is out of the state the lieutenant-governor shall act in his place. And after the lieutenant-governor the president of the senate, or, failing him, the speaker of the assembly is authorized to act as governor. But all these officers are now attending the Republican national convention at Chicago, leaving the state helpless so far as the functions of the chief executive are concerned.

STATE WITNESSES LACKING.

When the case of the patrolman charged with neglect of duty in connection with the Democratic primary election at Taylor and Delmar avenues, was called in the Court of Criminal Correction, Monday morning, the government was called for lack of state witnesses.

Judge Moore continued the case until July 11 and issued attachments for the following witnesses: Jas. J. McCafferty, Clarence R. Brehm, John E. McCarthy, Joe Kirkbride, Edward Cunningham.

Mohr, the second patrolman's case to be called, Timothy Flynn's was the first. He was convicted and sentenced to six months in the workhouse.

WANT CRAHAN BOND INCREASED
United States District Attorney Dyer Thinks It Should Be $25,000.

United States District Attorney Dyer has asked Commissioner Gray to increase the bond of Marcus Crahan, under arrest on a counterfeiting charge, from $10,000 to $25,000. The government officials evidently fear he may give the first amount. Mr. Gray is considering the request.

Crahan was to have been arraigned before Mr. Gray for preliminary hearing this morning. At the government's request the hearing was postponed until Tuesday. It is considered probable that he will be arraigned Tuesday and the Crahan case can be taken to that body direct.

POST-DISPATCH'S FAIR NEWS PRAISED

Editor J. S. McPherson of Springfield Speaks in Behalf of Southwest Missouri Journalists.

HAVE LOOKED TO IT FOR BEST

Says What State Knew About Exposition It Has Learned From That Paper.

POST-DISPATCH WORLD'S FAIR BUREAU, by the Forest Wire-Telegraph.
"What the people of Southwest Missouri know about the World's Fair they have learned from reading the Post-Dispatch," said J. S. McPherson, editor of the Sparta (Mo.) Leader Monday.

"It is the only paper we have received which has given us complete and accurate descriptions of the great Exposition and the members of the Southwest Missouri Press Association who arrived this morning commented as they walked through the Fair on this fact."

"Every few minutes some one in our party would point towards a certain building or view and asked if the rest remembered the picture of that in the Post-Dispatch."

Mr. McPherson is one of the delegates to the convention of the Southwest Missouri Press Association, which assembled at the Missouri building Monday morning. Forty-five editors and their wives were present and they will spend the week seeing the Fair.

J. C. Newhall of the Springfield Express is president, and A. W. Bradshaw of Lebanon is secretary. There will be no addresses during the session, the only business meeting being held Tuesday for election of officers. The remainder of the time will be spent seeing sights at the Fair, dividing into small groups Monday morning to visit various places of interest.

POST-DISPATCH MULHALL
STORY BROKE SPEED RECORD.

POST-DISPATCH WORLD'S FAIR BUREAU, by the Forest Wire-Telegraph.
Hundreds of persons who were on the Pike Sunday night when Zach Mulhall shot three men in front of the Wild West show are talking about the fast news service which enabled the Post-Dispatch to have papers on sale at the Lindell entrance to the Fair containing a complete account of the affair in little more time than it took to walk the length of the Pike.

"How was it done?" is what the hundreds ask. "We have never seen it done before. We who were on the Pike had only heard that there had been a shooting affair which we expected to read about the next morning, but we found the whole story ready for us to read on our way home that night."

According to the police the affair occurred about 10:15 o'clock and the call for them and the ambulances was received at the Fair police station at 10:20. The complete account of the affair, covering almost two columns of the Post-Dispatch, was on sale at the Lindell entrance at about midnight, although the main entrance is four miles from the Post-Dispatch office on Broadway.

At that hour the police had not completed their work on the case and surgeons were still working over the wounded.

SEVERAL PASSENGERS BRUISED
B. & O. S.-W. Train Runs Through Open Switch and Collides With a Freight.

Passenger train No. 1 of the Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern, due in St. Louis at 6 o'clock Sunday evening, ran through an open switch and collided with a freight train of 28 cars at Vincennes, Ind., yesterday afternoon.

Several of the passengers were badly shaken up, but none seriously injured. John Eisenhart, aged 9, of Philadelphia, who was with a party from Vincennes, Ind., sustained a scalp wound. J. L. Witmer of Cincinnati also sustained a scalp wound, and Ed Massey of Covington, Ky., porter on hand, sustained a scalp wound.

The engine and dining car were badly damaged. While the crew was clearing the track, those injured were treated by Vincennes physicians and brought to St. Louis, arriving here two hours late.

ATTORNEY FOR BOTH SIDES

Rozier C. G. Meggs, attorney for one of the local humane societies, turned up in the City Hall police court this morning in the dual role of attorney for both the prosecution and the defense.

The discovery that Mr. Meggs represented both sides created a ripple of amusement through the courtroom.

City Attorney Anderson was out of the court this morning, and Judge Tracy named Mr. Meggs to represent the state in a trivial case. Mr. Meggs did so, and Judge Tracy continued him in this capacity for the next case. When it was called Mr. Meggs arose and begged to be excused, claiming that in this second case he happened to represent the defense. He was excused.

CHIEF DESMOND HAS A SON.
Sweating Process Does Not Make the Youngster Talk.

A stark with two bills flew into the city yesterday morning. He was his own, and the other was "Bill" Desmond, Jr. The chief of detectives is supposed to have a sweating process which will make anybody talk, but he hasn't had any success with his young son up to this time, and it is not known whether or not the young man purges being a great sleuth.
